WHAT IS NONPROFIT MISSOURI?

EDUCATION

Nonprofit Missouri offers affordable, high-quality education on the issues that directly affect nonprofit organizations from all fields of service as well as training on how to advocate for needed change. These opportunities range from the annual Nonprofit Advocacy Day at the Capitol to the annual professional development conferences. Nonprofit Missouri collaborates across the state with other capacity building and training efforts to provide specialized training opportunities.

ADVOCACY

Nonprofit Missouri serves as the voice of Missouri's nonprofit sector on policy and legislative issues. Nonprofit Missouri's Policy Council and lobbyists are charged with monitoring legislative activity, advocating on behalf of the nonprofit sector, and developing the organization's ongoing legislative agenda.

KNOWLEDGE BUILDING

Nonprofit Missouri develops, translates, and disseminates data, research, and practice-based knowledge through partnerships and collaborations with national and local experts including those at academic institutions. Nonprofit Missouri is committed to making data understandable, useful, and accessible so that decision makers - professionals, elected officials, leaders and volunteers - can effectively lead change.

Welcome to FILAMENT

 @meetatfilament

Filament has Cracked the Meeting Code

Filament's conferences, retreats, and off-sites combine amazing space with creative facilitation and custom-designed tools to deliver results-focused meetings that are easy to plan, amazing to attend and simple to buy.

EASY TO PLAN

Because our turn-key conferences, retreats and off-sites include everything you'll need, you don't have to contract with ten vendors to plan your next meeting. We'll work with you to understand the outcomes you desire and build a meeting that achieves them.

AMAZING TO ATTEND

Filament's meetings leverage the wisdom of attendees to provide a collaborative experience that is refreshingly effective. Our creative facilitation methods, visual thinking strategies and unique problem-solving tools deliver one-of-a-kind meetings.

SIMPLE TO BUY

A simple per-person price makes it easy to know how much your meeting will cost before you arrive. Our all-inclusive pricing includes breakfast, lunch, facilitation, planning, audio-visual equipment, materials, etc., allowing you to focus on results, not logistics.

Delia Coleman Vice President, Strategy and Policy at Forefront

Delia guides and directs the Strategic Initiatives at Forefront, as well as educates policymakers at all levels of government on key issues impacting grant makers and social impact organizations. Delia joined our organization in 2010 as Manager, Public Policy Communications and Outreach, received several promotions, and assumed her current role in February 2016. Previously, Delia was Government Relations Officer at YWCA Metropolitan Chicago. She has been a Board Member of Chicago Lights and an Advocacy Council member of Women Employed. She is currently Board Co-Chair of the Chicago Abortion Fund. Before entering the nonprofit sector, Delia worked for several years in the corporate world, including at Gagen MacDonald (formerly Matha MacDonald), Starpoint Solutions, and Deloitte Consulting. She is a skilled speechwriter, public speaker, researcher, and advocate for social justice and women's issues. Delia earned a BA in English Literature from UCLA, an MA in English Literature from the University of Michigan, and is in the process of writing her first novel.

Paul Evensen, PhD., Sr. Vice President, Strategic Initiatives, Wyman

As one of the nation's foremost experts in the design, implementation and evaluation of impact coalitions at the community and systems level, Paul Evansen joined the Wyman team in 2015 to pursue outside of the box solutions to help more young people thrive, not just survive.

Evensen will guide work to assess, conceive, design and implement contributions to regional collective impact, including convening, educating, training, and empowering like-minded leadership stakeholders to help ready the region for planning, evaluating, supporting and advocating our young people and those who serve them.

He completed his doctorate at the World Health Organization's Collaborating Centre for Community Health and Development at the University of Kansas, and has worked with hundreds of coalitions across the country addressing teen pregnancy, poverty, literacy, school readiness and substance abuse.

Travis Sheridan Executive Director of Venture Café

Travis is the founding Executive Director of Venture Café Foundation – St. Louis. Travis has spent the past decade working with more than 400 startups in California and St. Louis. His goal is to use innovation and entrepreneurship to drive community and economic development. Travis is a co-founder of both 59DaysOfCode and GlobalHack. These competitions are creators of community and help identify talent. A frequent speaker, Travis honed his skills while doing standup for more than three years. Always looking for a new way to engage smart people, Travis hosts a monthly Boozestorming session that encourages people to drink outside the box and change the world one sip at a time.

Jason Purnell Assistant Professor, Brown School of Social Work

Dr. Jason Purnell is trained in both applied psychology and public health. After undergraduate study in government and philosophy at Harvard University, he received his doctoral degree in counseling psychology from Ohio State University and his Master of Public Health degree from the University of Rochester School of Medicine & Dentistry. Dr. Purnell completed an NCI-funded fellowship in cancer prevention and control and was a research assistant professor in the Department of Radiation Oncology at the University of Rochester before joining the Brown School. He is also a licensed psychologist in the states of Missouri and New York and a former director of community engagement with the United Way of Greater St. Louis.

Dr. Purnell is very active in the St. Louis community, both personally and professionally, including service on the boards of Beyond Housing, Inc., Loyola Academy of St. Louis, the Maternal, Child and Family Health Coalition as well as the United Way of Greater St. Louis Men's Leadership Society Cabinet, and the Program and Education Committee of the American Youth Foundation. Dr. Purnell received the Young Leader Award from the St. Louis American Foundation in 2013 and the Young Professionals Awards in Health and Quality of Life Empowerment from the Urban League Young Professionals of Metropolitan St. Louis in 2014. He is currently leading a Missouri Foundation for Health-funded project called For the Sake of All. He continues his transdisciplinary work as a faculty member in the Brown School and a faculty scholar in the Institute for Public Health. Dr. Purnell joined the Brown School research faculty in 2009 and was appointed an assistant professor in 2011.

Yemi Akande-Bartsch President & CEO, FOCUS St. Louis

Dr. Akande-Bartsch has over 15 years of experience in designing and facilitating leadership training, development, and coaching programs. She has served as vice president of leadership and alumni programs for FOCUS St. Louis, senior director of civic education for the Cleveland Leadership Center and program director for the Cleveland Executive Fellowship. Prior to joining FOCUS, Dr. Akande-Bartsch was managing partner at YsA Group, a leadership training and development company based in Cleveland, Ohio. She was also a lecturer at The Boler School of Business and Assistant Professor of Communication and Theatre Arts at Ohio's John Carroll University, and was the host of a weekly radio show called Making the Case on Cleveland's WJCU 88.7 FM, which featured interviews on Leadership and Legacy. She also worked in the field of International education for many years.

Dr. Akande-Bartsch holds a doctorate in communication (with specialty in intercultural, organizational, and political communication) from the University of Oklahoma. She also earned two master's degrees from the University of Oklahoma, the first in human relations and organizational development, and the second in public relations, journalism, and mass communication. She earned her bachelor's degree in speech communication from Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Missouri. Dr. Akande-Bartsch serves on the Board of Directors of The Sheldon Arts Foundation and is a member of the Association of Leadership professionals and International Leadership Association.
